MOSSEL BAY NEWS - The Western Cape and more specifically, Mossel Bay, came out tops in the latest Ratings Afrika Municipal Financial Sustainability Index (MFSI) report.

At the awards ceremony held in Johannesburg on Wednesday, 10 April, Mossel Bay Municipality and Midvaal Municipality in Gauteng, were recognised as the top municipalities in the country for financial sustainability. Both municipalities scored 74 out of 100.

The MFSI is a scoring model that evaluates six financial components, namely the operating performance, liquidity management, debt governance, budget practices, affordability and infrastructure development of a municipality. Not far behind these two institutions, followed the municipalities of Saldanha Bay (73), Swellendam (72) and Swartland (71).

MOSSEL BAY NEWS - Mossel Bay Municipality was recognised for its outstanding performance over several years as the top municipality in South Africa for financial sustainability by Ratings Afrika today, 10 April.

The municipality announced this in a statement earlier today. Mossel Bay shares this top position with Mid-Vaal.

Both Mossel Bay and Midvaal scored 74 out of a possible 100 with three more Western Cape municipalities named in the top 5. These municipalities are Saldanha Bay (73), Swellendam (72) and Swartland (71).

City of Cape Town was recognised as the top metro in the country with a score of 70.

"We are proud of this achievement as it provides proof of the council's objectives within the GROW strategy of which the growth and sustainability of good governance is a key element.

"I thank our residents, municipal officials, political office
